

Communicating with Your Loved One Living with Dementia

Presented by Chris Petrik, RN, BS, Training Specialist, Elderwerks Educational Services

During this informative discussion, Chris will discuss the part of the brain that controls speech and expression that may be affected by dementia; how one may communicate effectively using a more positive approach to care; how to encourage your loved one to live with dignity and their best ability to function; and the behaviors of one living with dementia is always a form of communication.
