

Dementia Basics & the Ethics of Communicating with Dementia Patients

Presented by Dr. Jennifer Wilson-Binotti, PsyD
Compassionate Neuropsychology, LLC

The basics of the most common types of dementia are presented, with correlates to like behaviors in children, adolescents and young adults. How are behaviors conceptualized in dementia sufferers and what are some useful ways to manage them, keeping positive patient outcomes in mind? Dr. Wilson-Binotti presents her perspectives on ethical considerations when communicating with neurocognitively impaired adults.
